

Tri-History Conference 2025

Caminemos con Jesús (Let's Walk with Jesus): History of Latino Ministry in the Episcopal Church

June 17-21, 2025 – Washington, D.C.

This conference is an opportunity to explore the rich history of Latino Ministry in the Episcopal Church and Anglicanism – the history of local churches, Latinx ministries, leadership, liturgy, music, translation, regional histories, organizations, and social movements. The conference format promises opportunities for all interested persons – laity, clergy, educators, and academics. Parish teams are encouraged to attend. In addition to keynote and panel presentations, workshops are part of the program, including parish history, oral history methods, and archival best practices, and other creative presentations are encouraged.

CALL FOR PAPERS AND PROGRAM PROPOSALS

The design team is currently reviewing program proposals for the conference in several areas:

1. Academic Panels/Presentations – Researchers working in the field of Latino Anglican and Episcopal History are welcome to submit proposals for conference presentations. Papers in this category should reflect original and unpublished scholarship potentially suitable for publication in the peer-reviewed journal, Anglican and Episcopal History.
2. Public History/Engaged History – The stories of individuals and groups that have undertaken the study of history attempting to uncover suppressed or hidden voices and build future ministries.
3. Workshops – Individuals and groups are welcome to submit proposals for workshops related broadly to the field of Latino Anglican and Episcopal History, including parish histories, archival methods, translation, oral histories, and other related topics and skills.
4. Other Presentations – Conference organizers welcome proposals for presentations beyond the other three categories in the visual arts, music, worship, film, and other media that express aspects of Latino Episcopal and Anglican History, community life, and culture.

Applicants are requested to provide a brief description (100-250 words) of proposed papers, workshops, or presentations and send them to the Rev. Yuri Rodriguez, at trihistoryproposals@gmail.com, no later than January 1, 2025.
